bankruptcy than any other time since the war. Gold reserves are sufficient to last for only a year and the monthly deficit has been growing at an alarming pace. To Britons this means more austerity, further reductions in living standards, extended rationing: in short,

continuation of the dreary existence which has plagued the people for the last 12 years. Mr Butler's task is to make Britain internationally solvent and it is of significance that his approach to the problem is very similar to that of one of his predecessors, Sir

Stafford Cripps. Mr Butler recognises that no novel measures are available

that can speed the country's economic recovery. Personal and national sacrifices remain the essential condition. Un-happily the country's food supplies are involved. Rationing cannot go much beyond the war-time level without gravely imperilling the health of the people.

Austerity can go only to certain limits and these, it is generally conceded, were reached during the Stafford Cripps regime. The parallel requirement is greater and faster production to permit of increased earning power. The Government will require tremendous new efforts on the part of capital and labour. Nothing, apparently, was said by Mr Butler yesterday about incentives, yet without them, it is extremely difficult for any administration to hope for a ready response to an appeal for increased production.

3-Point Programme Presented In Broadcast

INVENTORY OF ARMS & MILITARY FORCES

Washington, Nov. 7. President Truman tonight made a three-point proposal for world peace, including a continuing United Nations inventory of all armed forces and armaments.

He urged Russia to accept the plan to prevent another war. In a nationwide broadcast, the President gave the joint plan of France, the United Kingdom and the United States which will be submitted to the General Assembly in Paris. The three-point programme suggested:

1. A continuing inventory of all armed forces and policed by inspectors, who would armaments be undertaken. This inventory would take place in every country having substantial military power and it would be checked and verified in each of these countries by inspectors who are nationals of other countries and working under the United Nations. These inspectors would have authority to find out the real facts.

2. While this process of inventory and inspection is taking place, the nations work out specific arrangements for actual reduction of armed strength.

3. On the basis of these two steps, reductions, which | would have armed forces | proare the goal of the programme, be made as soon as it can be done with full knowledge and fairness to all.

world are the country's commitments

under the rearmament programme. Mr

Churchill may find it inescapable to default to some degree in this programme; or at any rate he may have to appeal to the United States to give a bigger helping hand. Mr Butler has already indicated that cuts will be made be met. The poser before the Govern-made all the more complicated by the prevailing high prices for raw materials,

much of which Britain has to import.

Nor do any signs exist that there is likely to be any lowering of world prices.

These are the factors which must govern the Government's handling of Britain's latest economic crisis. It is a problem of vast magnitude and complexities. Mr Butler has shown that he intends to tackle it vigorously and with determination, but he will need the goodwill and generous co-operation of the country's industrial leaders and workers to achieve his task of restoring

INSISTS ON DRAWING OF POLITICAL LINE

Istanbul, Nov. 7.

Turkey, with one foot in Europe and the other in Asia, is insisting that a clear, hard line be drawn politically between the question of her admission to the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO) and her role in Middle East defence.

Well informed sources here explain that in the matter of participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation, Turkey regards herself as an European country.

But In any arrangements for Middle East defence, she is an Asiatic power. This attitude is attributable in part to geography, which gives Turkey a foot in either continent, partly to the Kremalist revolution, which made her a Westernised State with la secular government although her people are mainly Moslems and the roots of her culture are in the Orient. The line which Turkey wishes to draw between NATO and Middle East defence is political. But it arises from strategic considerations. Turkey believes that in the event of a third World War, the decisive battlefield would be Europeand she knows that she stands sentry on a vital flank of that Her first interest, therefore, is in the Atlantic alliance of European countries led by the United For the first eight months of export a quantity of rice of cer- States, and provided that her admission to NATO is uncondi-.onal, public opinion here,

Today's Sweet Talk

F inspiration is running a bit thin and you're in the market for some good desserts, then hark to the idea dominant in today's sweet talk.

Use rich, strong coffee to give a zestful, different flavour to good old standbys and for new recipes, as well.

Coffee Bavarian

While the coffee brews, sprinkle thsp, unflavoured gelatinon 3/4 c cold water to soften. Separate 2 eggs; beat yolks slightly, then combine with few grains sait and ½ c. sugar Gradually add one c. doublestrength hot coffee to this mixture, then fold in softened gelatin

Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture is slightly thickened. Remove from heat, add tsp - vanilla Chill until syrupy. Next, fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites and one c. heavy cream, whipped

Turn into individual mould that have been rinsed in cold water, then chill until firm Unmould and serve with sheed i sweetened peaches. Yield 6 to g portions.

Coffee Peanut Pie

-choice for those An ideal overly-sweet sweets. The flavour combinaand coffee is tion of peanut unusual and attractive, and the filling is easy to make, a nice choice for a slappedtogether company meal

Combine 2 tbsp all-purpose flour, % c sugar and 12 tsp salt, stir in 1/3 c strong coffee and one c dark corn syrup Boll gently from 3 to 5 min then slowly stor mixture into 3 eggs, slightly beaten. Add 2 tbsp. shortening, stirring until melted

Sprinkle one c chopped roasted peanuts over bottom of 9-Inch unbaked pie shell, slowly pour in filling Bake at 425 \mathbf{F}_{i} for 10 min, then reduce heat to 350 F, and continue baking until knife comes out elenn (about 35 min.).

Household Hint

Too much heat will esuse discolou: ation of stainless sicel cooking utinsils. Keep scouring until the utensil is clean again unless the heat was so intense that the article is warped. If so, it better by discarded, as it is burned all the way through. Your hardware dealer doubtless has stainless steel wool pads, which are different from the usual sleet wool used to clean aluminium.

ment for the jump take-out to three When your partner opens the bidding, you are entitled to make a jump take-out in a new sult if your hand is better than a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. If your strength is partly distributional, you are entitled to count a singleton as though it were a king and an ace as though it were a void. A doubleton is not worth quite as much

Let's look at the North hand on that basis. The high-card strength is just about what you'd need for a minimum opening bid of one notrump. (Mind you, it wouldn't be proper to bid one no-trump; it's just that the high cards are right for it.)
But we agreed that we need better than such a hand for a jump takeout. So it is not normally worth a jump to three clubs.

However, North should bid three clubs, because of the part score. He ds entitled to make a klight stretch.
But he should remember that he has

Later on South must not bid four no-trump. He doesn't want to know about North's aces. He wants to ask: "Do you have extra values? If so. bld the dlam; Otherwise, drop me at less than slam."
In short, South should bid five hearts, and North should pass. Five hearts would be made fairly easily, whereas six hearts would be set.

ENGLAND FAR AHEAD OF THE DOMINIONS IN EMPIRE ATHLETICS

"RECORDER"

On the present year's performances so far, England is far ahead of the other Commonwealth nations in athletics. Australia was a close challenger over the past three seasons, but the retirement of many outstanding Aussie stars and the considerable improvement in English standards in the past year puts England well ahead.

The appended list of best performances this year does not show Australian, South African and New Zealand strength in true perspective as it excludes performances set up in November and December last year, the two busiest months of the athletic season in the Southern Hemisphere.

However, the National Championships of all three Dominions come into the reckoning. In the case of Australia and New Zealand, conditions in these Championships were not ideal and many of the best performances of the season down under came earlier than the Championships, most of these at the Canterbury Centennial Clames late in December last year.

Week-end Softball

OPPOSITION

By "GRANDSTAND"

Over the last week-end, two teams had the sad experience of losing their first game in the current season, thus spoiling their clean record of successes, the first being the Squaws, who bowed to the Wahoos in the Ladies' League, the other being the Delawares who were surprised by the Griffins in the Junior Softball League. Teams enjoying winning streaks at the moment are U.S. Navy (Senior "B") Blackhawks (Junior) and Wahoos (Ladies), but all three outfits wifl face heavy opposition this week which may see more victims falling before all-out efforts. In the meantime, the cellar dwellers in all four Leagues remain winless.

Taking advantage of the Public Holiday on Monday, the Management Committee of the Softball Association have re-scheduled several called-off games, resulting in a busy period at King's Park over the Holidays.

On returning to his country from a trip to Beirut and Damascus, the Premier said there was complete conformity of views in the two cities, according to a broadcast by Jordan Radio.

He pointed out that the Western powers did not require an immediate reply to their proposals and preferred that the Arab nations study them closely before committing themselves. He added that it would be better for the Arab States to make a unanimous decision concerning such a serious subject. -United Press

Peak Area Residents Wasting Water DPW's WARNING CIRCULAR

Residents in the Peak area have received a circular from the Director of Public Works appealing for a reduction in water consumption.

The DPW warns that unless there is an immediate reduction in consumption of water in the areas mentioned in his circular, it will be necessary to impose special restrictions in respect of hours of supply on those areas.

The text of the circular reads: The imposition of more severe restrictions in the hours of supply on October 12, 1951, has produced generally satisfactory results except for the area of the Peak supply.

Over the whole Colony there has been a reduction of about 10 per cent in the daily consumption, whereas for the Peak area instead of a reduction, there has actually been a slight increase in consumption.

The storage reservoirs supplying water for the Peak and West Central districts are falling more rapidly than other reservoirs, despite efforts to restrict the area supplied therefrom, and itimpossible to augment this supply from other sources. DISTRICTS NAMED

It is imperative that there should be a decrease in the consumption of water in the following districts: (a) Peak, west of Magazine Gap (b) Mid level, west of Castle Street (c) Low levels, west of Whitty high-velocity fire. (e) Aberdeen district.

In these areas make it clear that barrage to a tack the United Nawaste of wa'er is going on. Why we say Fifth

When General Franco's forces were threatening Madrid in the Spanish Civil War, war correspondents dethem scribed advancing in coloums. In a broadcast General Franco said that he had yet a column — his sympathisers in side Madrid. From that date the "fifth column" has always meant secret or underground workers within the enemy's lines or country,
